

ABSTRACT

A method and system of providing document processing device job information, includes organizing the job information into menus and submenus and displaying the job information to a user.